THE OFFICIAL MAGAZINE OF UNITED STATES ARMY LOGISTICS

FEATURE ARTICLES

2 Why Airlift Isn't Free—General Paul K. Carlton
7 AMC Reorganizes—ALOG Staff Feature
10 AMC Schools—The Other Army School System—ALOG Staff Feature
15 Brainstorming—Captain W. John Stoddart
17 Better Helicopters Through Logistics Support Analysis—Lieutenant Colonel Gary P. Beaulieu
20 Combat Oriented General Support—Lieutenant Colonel James R. Stivison and Lieutenant Colonel Richard M. Wangenheim
24 Continental Army Logistics—Food Supply—ALOG Staff Feature
29 Computer Model Assesses Combat Damage—Captain James H. Laux
30 Ammo Supply in Rapid Deployment—Lieutenant Colonel Robert P. Jones
33 Environmental Logistics—Lieutenant Colonel E. L. Ziebell
36 Night Aircraft Maintenance—Major Ted A. Cimral

DEPARTMENTS

1 Emphasis
38 Digest
42 Research Reports
42 Coming Events
43 Career Programs
45 Recently Published

The mission of ARMY LOGISTICIANT is to provide timely and authoritative information on Army and Defense logistics plans, policies, doctrine, procedures, operations, and developments to the Active Army, Army National Guard, U.S. Army Reserve, civilian employees of the Army, and the public. ARMY LOGISTICIANT is published to increase knowledge and understanding of logistics and assists in accomplishing the information objectives of the Department of the Army.

ARMY LOGISTICIANT is an official Department of the Army periodical published bi-monthly at the U.S. Army Logistics Management Center, Fort Lee, Virginia, under the sponsorship of the Assistant Secretary of the Army (Installations and Logistics), the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, and the Commanding General, U.S. Army Materiel Command. Photographs are U.S. Army unless otherwise specified. Material may be reprinted provided credit is given to ARMY LOGISTICIANT and to the author. Opinions expressed by contributors do not necessarily reflect the official viewpoint of the Department of the Army.

Articles, photographs, illustrations, and items of interest on any function of U.S. Army logistics are invited. Direct communication is authorized to: Editor, ARMY LOGISTICIANT, U.S. Army Logistics Management Center, Fort Lee, Virginia 23801.

Use of funds for printing this publication was approved by Headquarters, Department of the Army, 1 October 1974.

Active Army units receive distribution under the pinpoint distribution system, as outlined in AR 310-2. Completed DA Form 12-5 must be sent directly to CO, AG Publications Center, 2800 Eastern Boulevard, Baltimore, Md. 21220.

Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve units must submit requirements through their state adjutant general and U.S. Army Reserve channels respectively.

Subscriptions to ARMY LOGISTICIANT are available through the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Annual rates are $7.65 for mailing to a domestic or APO address and $9.90 for mailing to a foreign address. Individual copies of the magazine are $1.35 each. Checks should be made payable to the Superintendent of Documents.
Everyone knows the value of his own time and everyone hates to have that precious time wasted. One of the most frustrating time wasters is a poorly planned and conducted meeting or an unnecessary meeting. Lieutenant Colonel George C. Wallace recently told Army Logistician magazine that, "During the past five years, I estimate that half of the time I spent in meetings has been wasted. This was confirmed by a detailed account of the meetings I attended during a recent 30-day period. The average was three hours of meetings per week, or 156 hours a year."

Some rules offered by Colonel Wallace should be helpful to those who conduct meetings and to those who attend. When appropriately applied, these rules will undoubtedly save a great deal of that valuable commodity—time. In his postscript, Colonel Wallace reveals, "this list was outlined while attending a two-hour meeting that should have lasted not more than 30 minutes."

- Don't have a meeting unless it is necessary. Perhaps the information can be exchanged through phone calls or memoranda.
- Determine the purpose of the meeting. Will it produce a decision or provide information?
- Prepare a specific agenda of key issues and distribute it in advance.
- Invite only those individuals necessary to accomplish the purpose of the meeting.
- Determine who will chair the meeting. One person cannot control the meeting and actively participate at the same time.
- Never schedule a meeting for the last hour of the working day unless absolutely necessary.
- Make administrative arrangements. Should it be a sitdown or standup meeting? (Standup meetings save a lot of time!) Should it be a roundtable discussion or classroom lecture? Have handouts and guidelines available, if necessary.
- Start on time. Latecomers will get the message!
- Conduct the meeting in a firm businesslike manner. Maintain control, summarize frequently, and cut off long-winded speakers when they have made their points.
- At the end, sum up the conclusions, decisions, and followup actions, and circulate copies of the minutes, if available.