ARMY LOGISTICIANS
VOLUME 11, NUMBER 4
JULY-AUGUST 1979
THE OFFICIAL MAGAZINE OF UNITED STATES ARMY LOGISTICS

ARTICLES
2 Maintenance Management Improvement Program
   —Lieutenant General Evind H. Johansen
6 Trucks Coming—Lieutenant Colonel James M. Durham and Lieutenant Colonel Joseph F. Manzi, Jr.
10 Division Ammunition Transfer Point Tested—Major James H. Priest
14 DOD Packaging Data System—Luther W. Fillmore and Michael W. Noll
17 Minicomputers at the Retail Level
   —Lieutenant Colonel Wendell O. Jones
20 Cassandra on the Beach—Captain Bruce P. Schoch, USAR
24 Overhauling the HAWK—ALOG Staff Feature
26 Reporting Missile Readiness—William C. Wall, Jr., Ph.D., and Lieutenant Colonel Raymond R. Ross II
31 You Can Change the Army!
   —Chief Warrant Officer (W3) Matthew P. Caputo
32 Do's and Don'ts for RAM PIP's—Vincent W. Prunsk
35 Improving Maintenance Operations
   —Chief Warrant Officer (W3) Wendell R. Craig
36 Automating the Procurement Process—ALOG Staff Feature

DEPARTMENTS
1 Emphasis
38 Digest
42 Career Programs
44 Research Reports

44 Coming Events
45 Recently Published
Are You A 'Pro'?
   —Master Sergeant Charles C. Luther, USA (Ret.) (inside back cover)

Army Logisticiant is devoted to the publication of timely, authoritative information on Army and Defense logistics for the Active Army, Army National Guard, Army Reserve, civilian employees of the Army, and the public. Our purpose is to increase knowledge and understanding of logistics and to encourage and stimulate innovative thought in areas of logistics by providing a forum for those ideas. The views expressed in the articles are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the Department of Defense or the Department of the Army.

Army Logisticiant is an official Army periodical published bimonthly and sponsored by the Assistant Secretary of the Army (Installations, Logistics, and Financial Management), the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, and the Commander, Army Materiel Development and Readiness Command. Photographs are U.S. Army unless otherwise noted. Material may be reprinted if credit is given to Army Logistician and the author, unless otherwise noted.

Use of the third person pronoun ‘he’ and any of its forms, as used in this periodical, is intended to include both masculine and feminine genders. Any exceptions will be indicated in the text.

Articles, photographs, illustrations, and items of interest on any facet of Army logistics are invited. Direct communication is authorized to: Editor, Army Logistician, Army Logistics Management Center, Fort Lee, Va. 23801.

Use of funds for printing of this publication was approved by Headquarters, Department of the Army, on 1 October 1978 in accordance with AR 310-1.

Active Army units receive distribution under the pinpoint system outlined in AR 310-2. DA form 12-5 must be sent to Cdr, AG Publications Center, 2800 Eastern Boulevard, Baltimore, Md. 21220. Army National Guard and Army Reserve units must submit requirements through State adjutants general or Army Reserve channels.

Annual subscription rates are: $9.00, mailed to a domestic or APO address and $11.25 to a foreign address. Single copy rates are $1.50 domestic and $1.90 foreign. Order through and make checks payable to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

ABOUT THE COVER
The Maintenance Management Improvement Program, just initiated by the Army Chief of Staff, emphasizes the importance of the soldier's role in maintaining vehicles and other equipment in a high state of readiness. Details of the program are in the story beginning on page 2.
Are You A ‘Pro’?

by Master Sergeant Charles C. Luther, USA (Ret.)

Today the word “professional” is used so often it seems to have lost some of its meaning and some of the impact it should have. Think for a moment about the question, “What is a professional?”

When a person is called a “professional,” it means he earns his living by applying his knowledge and skill to accomplish specific, and usually, specialist tasks. He is paid not only for what he does and how well he does it but also for what he knows. Logistics is a broad and diverse field that requires the knowledge, skill, and abilities of professionals in many disciplines if the system is to work.

A lifetime can be spent in improving one’s knowledge of a field or a job in order to advance the state-of-the-art to refined, specialized techniques. Logistics is one such field. Therefore, a professional logistian is constantly updating his knowledge through study.

A professional logistian does not leave his knowledge, skill, and dedication at the worksite. He is proud of the fact that he is “tops” in his field. He respects his life’s work enough to create a good impression wherever he goes, with whomever he comes in contact.

A professional logistian works at his job, knows his job, continuously endeavors to improve his knowledge and skill, earns his pay by producing results, and is proud of his ability and shows it.

Are you a “pro”?

Master Sergeant Charles C. Luther, USA (Ret.), was supply plans NCO, 1st Corps Support Command, Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He was a member of the Noncommissioned Officer Logistics Program and a graduate of the Noncommissioned Officer Advanced Course.
You’re invited . . .

. . . to share Army Logistician’s Special Tenth Anniversary Issue, September-October 1979

The theme will be Army logistics in the 1980’s, with articles by major logistics commanders and policymakers.