MEMORANDUM FOR Incoming TC, OD, QM Lieutenants

SUBJECT: Welcome to the Logistics Basic Officer Leader Course (LOG BOLC)

1. Welcome to the United States Army's Transportation Branch, Quartermaster Branch, and Ordnance Branch. You will spend the next 15 weeks, 3 days learning the logistical fundamentals required to lead platoon in support of Large Scale Combat Operations.
2. The purpose of LOG BOLC is to produce physically fit, mentally agile, and technically proficient Lieutenants capable of decisive operations in a Large Scale Combat operations environment.
3. COVID 19. When you arrive at Fort Lee, Virginia, you will sign in to the ALU Staff Duty desk and the Staff Duty Officer (SDO) will be asked a series of screening questions. If you answered NO, you will receive an in-brief packet and you will be directed to the IHG. Prior to leaving the Staff Duty desk, get your TAC's POC and give a phone number to the SDO. Your TAC will contact you shortly.
4. IHG. Once you sign for your room, you will be under a 14 day Conditional Release. You must have a 14 day supply of personal hygiene. It is highly recommended that you have a personal laptop.
5. In-brief packet. In your in-brief packet, you will have instructions for the next 14 days. It's imperative that you call your TAC for any questions.
6. Again, welcome to the Logistics Basic Officer Leader Course. I look forward to meeting you. Please call the ALU Staff Duty for more assistance at 804-765-8440.
